“Everything a Church Planter Ever Needed to Know but Didn’t Know to Ask”

When starting new churches, planters face so many immediate questions like where to find people, how to disciple new believers, and what kind of space is available for meetings. Issues arise along the way that are more difficult to anticipate. Forces seem to be at work, too, that are not obvious.

What should we be asking about starting churches that we don’t even know to ask?

SPEAKER
Lizette Beard

Lizette coordinates research projects for LifeWay Research on topics such as multi-site churches, church planting, small groups, discipleship, and church planter assessment. She was also the project manager for the church planting project Ed Stetzer did with Leadership Network in 2006 and 2007. Lizette has a bachelor’s degree in Religious Studies and a master’s in Missiology. She is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in applied theology (North American Church Planting). Lizette is wise, witty, and insightful. We look forward to hearing from her!
